SOPRANO saxophone mouthpiece

With the release of the alto saxophone mouthpiece the Concept range has quickly established itself as a new benchmark. Henri SELMER Paris is expanding the Concept family and is unveiling the new Concept mouthpiece for soprano saxophone.

Ease of response, with a round and rich sound, the Soprano Concept mouthpiece is characterized by its exterior design, which is above all for the comfort of the musician. The mouth is wider than that of a traditional soprano mouthpiece, this makes switching between instruments (alto/soprano) much easier. Acoustic advances combined with improved ergonomics, serving the musician and the music.

This mouthpiece is a vital tool in this intimate and all-consuming relation between a musician and his sound. Warmth, precision, & homogeneity are only the beginning; thanks to this Concept an infinite number of musical possibilities are now open.

Daniel GAUTHIER

A rich, pure and seductive sound, fantastic response and intonation in all registers, good projection. A mouthpiece that will please many saxophonists who are looking for a soprano mouthpiece that allows for more room to 'play' with the sound in the artistic sense of the term. A great success.
